New York, November 22.—In response to profit-taking sales following yesterday's rise and some selling by London, stocks weakened to-day. The opening was lower, and prices cased off in the morning. Trading fell off to Bominal proportions in the last half of the day, and prices virtually were at a standstill. London selling was regarded as the strongest event of the garded as the strongest event of the garded as the strongest event of the day.

It is estimated that 20,000 to 22,000 shares were sold here by London, which had been recently repurchasing American securities sold at the outbreak of the Balkan war. This selling was attributed to the break in the peace terms. For a time to-day there was some buying by tasders, who took the ground that strong influences aligned on the bull side were responsible for yesterday's upturn. This buying was more than offset by liquidation sales and London selling, the latter being the most effective in Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgumated Copper, Losses were restricted to fractions in most cases. Canadian Pacific declined two points.

The bond market was quiet and irregular.
